Lions Will Observe Ladies Night Jan. 26 With Dinner At Hanks

Officers Installed Monday Followed by Talk on Flying Saucers

Members of the Antioch Lions club will observe their annual Ladies night Monday evening, Jan. 26 with a banquet at Hanks on Skokie Hwy. near Waukegan.

A fine floor show with five acts and ten actors has been arranged and King Jaro's eleven-piece orchestra will play for the dancing. The committee in charge comprises Irving Carey, chairman; Ted C. Larson, and William E. Brook.

The club installed officers Monday evening at Smart's Country House and they heard a most interesting discussion on flying saucers by Gordon Vold, Palatine, a graduate engineer serving as superintendent of the Flexonix Corp.

Vold is firm in the belief they exist and suspects that much information is kept from the public by the armed forces.

Dist. Gov. Leighton Mangels, Palatine, installed the new officers who are as follows:

Homer La Plant, president; John Russo, first vice president; George Garland, second vice president; Clarence Olsen, third vice president; Ed Cranley, secretary; Edward Kugel, treasurer; Elmer Baethke, Lion tamer; Frank E. Nejd, tall twister; Ted Larson and Lester Osmond, directors for two years, and Marlin W. Hagen and Lloyd Murrie, directors for one year.

He is survived by his widow, Grace, a sister, Mrs. Vivian Bruel of Camp Lake; the mother, Mrs. Albert Rogers, and three brothers, Vernon, H. Lisle, and Lewis Rogers, all of Antioch and vicinity.

Raymond Rogers was born July 29, 1906 in Lake Villa. The following year the family moved to Antioch where he resided for 15 years. Thereafter 15 years were spent in Chicago before he moved to Gurnee.

High School Freshmen Lose to Zion 47-29; Intra-Mural Standing

The freshman basketball team lost to the Zion Benton freshmen last Monday 47-29. Inability to hit the basket in the first half and to hold down the high scoring Zion center, Ron Daniels, led to the Antioch defeat. Daniels had 28 points for the winner.

Jim Fish and Phil Wagner were the high scorers for Antioch with 10 and 9 points respectively.

The freshmen have now won 3 and lost 4. Their next game is with Waukegan freshmen at Antioch Monday night.

Charles Bluthard, a resident of Loon Lake for six years, passed away after a long illness Friday, Jan. 9, in a Chicago hospital. He had been in failing health since a heart attack, suffered last year.

He was a retired Chicago police captain, and well known here, during the six years he made his home at Loon Lake. He moved to Chicago shortly after the attack and has been steadily declining in health since.

Funeral services were held in Chicago Tuesday.

Catches 2-pound Bass

Wayne Pinger, 11 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pinger of Bluff Lake, was an excited youthful fisherman last Sunday when he hooked and caught a black bass 15½ inches long weighing slightly over 2 lbs. The bass was the first reported caught through the ice this season. Since bait used for pan fish is not too attractive to bass they are seldom caught by ice fishermen, who usually seek the pan fish.

March Of Dimes Drive Gains Momentum Here; Sletten Is Treasurer

High School Will Conduct Own Campaign Next Thursday

E. J. Sletten, president of the First National Bank was appointed treasurer of the March of Dimes campaign by Chairman Anthony Scully as the drive got into high gear this week.

Chairman Scully announced that his plea for workers brought a response from 11 women who are canvassing their immediate territories. This makes a total of 35 for the Antioch area.

The newcomers are Mesdames George Masopust, Clifford Randall, William Lemke, Walter Delaney, John Horan, Jr., Robert Taylor, Robert Pinger, Harry Arndt, Edward Gressens, Walter Good, and Ronald Polson.

Mrs. Frank Carlson and Mrs. J. Kodl, Lake Marie, were the first to complete their canvassing.

Scully said that a total of 115 coin receptacles have been placed in the various business places. They are iron lung replicas like the ones used last year.

The March of Dimes pocket for the insertion of coins will be given to the pupils on Tuesday. The pockets will be collected by the teachers and turned over to the local community chairman.

It is the desire of the high school students to join with teachers and other adults of our community in an all-out fight against polio.

Management stated that reports detailing all operations of the company during the last 12 months would be made. He indicated that there would be much of vital interest in these reports.

"During the past year," stated Smith, "we have witnessed many events of nation-wide and world-wide interest. However," he said, "there have been big things happening here in our district as well. It is hoped that every member and patron will plan to attend this Silver Anniversary meeting and learn of these happenings. The presence and the interest of all will be needed in deciding what course the company is to take in meeting future developments."

The management stated that the company will have a good report. Shareholders of the company's preferred stock have already received their regular dividends, and Farm Bureau member patrons will receive patronage refunds totaling over $100,000 and a special program celebrating the company's silver anniversary has been arranged.

Antioch to Play Grant; Both Teams Win Over Grayslake Rams There

Sequoits Lead Conference Standing With Not a Single Defeat

The undefeated Antioch High School varsity and sophomore basketball teams will play Grant High at Ingleside tomorrow evening and with the traditional rivalry between the two schools the games should prove interesting.

The underclassmen should have little trouble in beating the Grant sophomores who haven't won a game so far this year. On the other hand, the varsity may have more opposition from the Grant fifth-place upperclassmen.

When the chips were down, Antioch-Township High school's sharp shooters were able to produce baskets in quantities in their game with Grayslake there last Friday night.

They won in one of their biggest scoring tilts 70 to 54 after the sophomores had taken their game from the Grayslake underclassmen 53 to 35.

It was the fifth straight conference victory for the Scottmen and they continue to top the league standing.

The Sequoits presented a well-rounded attack with all of the players contributing heavily in the scoring. Top pointman, however, was Jerry Quilty with 15 tallies, while Boake Baird and Bob Floyd added 13 points each, and Bruce Stahmer, Bob Weber and Ben Floyd each made eight. Larry Lass rounded out the total with five.

The Grayslake Rams gave Antioch good competition in the first quarter which ended a tie 15-15, but after that the Sequoits moved ahead to hold a half time lead of 3-26.

The third quarter went to Antioch 18-12 and the final quarter 19-16.

Ronnie Christen was high point man for the Rams with 13 points. Weber held Jay Hook, Grayslake star, to one field goal.

That the Sequoits had their shooting eye working was seen from the fact that of the 42 shots made from the field, 23 of them connected for an average of 54 per cent, which is as good as the play of college teams. Elsewhere in the conference Elia-Vernon beat Grant 65-48 and moved into third place, next to Palatine.

Polley Vice-Chairman Secondary Schools in Nat'l Business Teachers

Warren Polley, business education teacher at Antioch Township High school, was elected vice-chairman of the Secondary Schools Department of National Business Teachers Association at a convention held at the Congress hotel, Chicago, December 28, 29 and 30.

All but seven states were represented at the convention, and more than one thousand teachers attended. The NBTA is reported to be the largest organization of its kind, and more than 25 per cent of all business teachers are members.

The fact that the annual convention is always held during the holidays means that teachers attending must forego a part of their holidays which bespeaks a high professional note. The 1953 convention will be held in St. Louis, Mo.

Interest Shown In Town Election Set For April 7

Justices and Constables Are Increased to Five Each

Much interest is being shown in the coming town election, although much time remains for filing petitions before the Feb. 16 deadline. Town Clerk L. R. Van Patten, Jr., said today that while no petitions have been filed as yet, several have indicated that they will be candidates.

Offices to be filled at the April 7 election include Town Clerk, Assessor, Tax Collector, five Justices of the Peace, five Constables, and two Trustees of the Library Board.

Van Patten has indicated that he will be a candidate for re-election, and thus far there has been no hint that his candidacy will be opposed. He has served for the past four years, having replaced Charles F. Richards, town clerk for many years before his retirement in 1949.

Petitions are currently being circulated for J. P. Miller, who will be a candidate for assessor. Miller has conducted an insurance business in Antioch and is very well known throughout the township. James E. Kopriva, appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Ernest Simons, passed away Monday, Jan. 12, and thus unless some new candidate is forthcoming Miller will have no opposition.

It is believed that veteran Town Tax Collector John L. Horan will be opposed by one or more candidates for that office this year, since the job is a very lucrative one. Last year Horan collected $6,194.39 in fees. The tax books are furnished the collector approximately sixty days prior to the penalty date, and 2 per cent of all collected money is set as a fee for the collector's office. A breakdown of the fees collected last year show that Horan received $1500 as salary; expenses of his office amounted to $1748.64. The balance amounting to $2945.75 was turned over to the general town fund.

Increase Number of J. P.'s
Due to increase in population of the township as shown by the 1950 census, the township is now entitled to elect five justices of the peace and five constables, instead of the two previously elected.

Petitions are being circulated for H. J. Brogan, long a justice in Antioch, and William H. Herbert, Wildwood, is also a candidate for re-election. No others have shown interest in the jobs as yet.

George Sterbenz and Jack Flanagan have been Antioch's constables, but it is not certain that either will run for re-election.

Building Progresses at Antioch High School

Another classroom in the new addition to the high school was put in use this week. Mathematics and English classes are utilizing two new classrooms. Other rooms will become available in the near future.

Seats for the auditorium are scheduled for installation on Jan. 23. The painters will complete the decoration this week.

There is improvement being made with the heating system under the supervision of the architect and the contractor. It is felt that the heating problem in the new building will be corrected this week and all rooms will become available for use.

Local Youths Jailed After Suicide Try

John Dickson, Loon Lake, believed to be about 24, is in county jail and Bob Schmidt 18, Antioch, is out on $200 bond today as a result of alleged disorderly conduct in Antioch late Monday night.

According to Deputy Sheriff Frank Valenta, who reported at the scene, Schmidt, Dickson and two other youths had beer, wine and whiskey in the car in which they had been riding. About midnight they came into Antioch and entered the Antioch Cafe. One of the youths brought beer into the restaurant, which caused owners of the restaurant to protest.

Dickson and Schmidt left the restaurant and while on the sidewalk Dickson slashed his left wrist. Dr. Breakstone was called and local police, with the help of a squad from the sheriff's office bandaged the wound and took him to Waukegan where he was lodged in jail.

Economic Highlights

Everybody realizes that important changes in the conduct of the government will begin to take place as soon as President Eisenhower moves into the White House. But it's probably true that a relatively small proportion of the American people realize just how sweeping those changes are likely to be. Here, in capsule form is what will probably happen, based on Eisenhower's appointments, on statements made by him and close advisers, and on the opinions of people whose business it is to weigh and assess and forecast the course of events in Washington.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE. As U. S. News & World Report put it, Eisenhower "will reorganize the Executive Office of the President from top to bottom. This will be one of the first and most significant acts of his new regime." When F. D. Roosevelt moved in, there were just 95 people employed by the office, including servants. Now there are close to 1200. Eisenhower objectives will be a thorough streamlining job, more efficiency, less confusion and conflict within his personal establishment. Governor Adams, whose role will be that of a chief of staff, will be the co-ordinator and he will have broad authority. In essence, the new set-up will be on military lines.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE. It is a well known fact that Eisenhower believes there has been much waste here, that often we haven't received a dollar's worth of result for each dollar spent. Secretary Wilson, who left one of the highest paid positions in industry for his new job, will follow a firm line with the military people. Frills will be cut out, duplication of effort within and between the services eliminated. Maximum defense for minimum money will be the goal.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR. A major housecleaning is in the cards. The theorists and social planners will no longer be the big influences. Secretary McKay will emphasize state and local rights, responsibilities and obligations—he is strongly against the "big government" idea that dominated the Roosevelt-Truman regimes, and was particularly marked in Interior. On the policy level, all the faces will be new.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY. Here, too, there will be changes all along the line—conservative changes, based largely on the classical economic theories. The debt will be reduced, the tax system re-examined, particularly as it affects the ability of business to expand, and everything possible done to fight further depreciation of the dollar. And here too practical, experienced men will make the policies, and there will be little room for the theorists.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE. A Wall Street Journal feature article, signed by Angus Deming, had this to say: "A coldly critical scrutiny is in store for the government's $2,000,000,000 farm-price propping operations. . . . The probable line of attack: Attempt to improve marketing and distribution to such an extent that increased consumption will take care of most surpluses, thus do away with much of the Agriculture Department's expensive price-support activities." The idea will be to solve agriculture's problems through a business-like approach, with less reliance on government and the treasury.

So it will go, all down the line. President Eisenhower will not be able to accomplish miracles overnight—he is, after all, inheriting the deficits and the governmental structure created by 20 years of Fair Deal-New Deal rule. But the new brooms will be put to work at once with instructions to sweep hard and thoroughly.

Grass Roots Opinion

SHELDON, IOWA, MAIL: "The American Farm Bureau in its annual convention at Seattle—called for the restriction of federal entry into the power business to instances where private enterprise or state or local government were not able or willing to handle the job. . . . All in all their resolutions seemed based upon the soundest business judgment and they are very encouraging."

VENTURA, CALIF., COUNTY NEWS: "The people spoke . . . not just for a change in political leadership, but for a change-of-course for the Ship of State. No more of this fairly effortless running-free, they said, let's come about into the wind, trim our sails and drive her. . . . This was to mandate to Ike. It was more than that. It was likewise a mandate to ourselves—to roll up our sleeves and our bell-bottomed trousers and turn-to for the skipper."

BOSTON, MASS., QUINCY PATRIOT LEDGER: "The press has sometimes been criticized for squawking too much about their own freedom. But it is not their own freedom in question, it is the freedom of the people to have a press which can give them all the facts on the news of the day without being subject to censorship."

The Low Down from Hickory Grove

Now and then I thumb my way through a Canadian paper—and you know, those Maple Leafers, independent, and workers that they are, they sometimes find themselves in a jam like de do over here on our side of the border—after the horse is gone. And it comes from listening to the medicine men who sell new ideas on reaching the millenium quick—short cut.

I just been reading about their "Hydro" over there in Ontario. Hydro is what they call their State owned power system that for 20 years has promised so much—but which now has started to mire down under a debt of over a billion bucks—a threatening power shortage—a boosting of rates. And Hydro has been exempt from taxes of 9 dollars a horsepower, for years, while the private outfits left there pay full taxes.

Hydro is the "Sacred Cow of Ontario politics"—as a Toronto paper calls it. Now, don't look superior-like or snicker or say what kind of hombraes are these Canucks, listening to such, wierd and wispy political palaver of letting the "people have the profit." Down Memphis and Chattanooga way we have the same kind of mistake to clean up—TVA. And the thing to do is, dust off our vest—admit we been a sucker—gulp a coupla times—get Sambo out from behind the switchboard, and pronto.

V8

with a million miles
behind it

HERE, in literal fact, is the most advanced V8 engine ever placed in a standard-production American automobile.

It is the first such V8 to reach an 8.5 to 1 compression ratio, and the first with a dynamic flow muffler that cuts power loss to zero.

It is the first V8 to utilize vertical valves together with a 12-volt electrical system instead of the usual 6. It is also the first designed with new "T" type intake manifold to replace the "Y" type conventionally used in V8s.

It is, quite simply, the first V8 Fireball Engine—the engine that brings electrifying performance to the greatest Buicks in fifty great years—the engine that powers the 1953 Buick ROADMASTER with 188 hp., and the 1953 Buick SUPER with up to 170.

Naturally, this spectacular new V8 has been proved—by eight years of developing, testing, improving, perfecting—and by more than a million miles of driving through desert, mountains, cities and plains. Only then did Buick engineers mark it: Released for Production.

But these hard-to-please engineers gave these Golden Anniversary Buicks far more than new power.

They gave them, too, a still finer ride, more superb comfort, new braking power and handling ease—and a sensational new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive* that adds new quiet and whip-fast getaway to absolute smoothness.

Nothing, we believe, will do more justice to your automobile dollars—or to your love of magnificent motoring—than a visit to us right now.

Sailors Prefer Nice Girls, Chaplain Says

MIDDLESBROUGH, Eng.—British sailors prefer good girls to bad—nice girls are peppy, pretty, and gobs of fun, the tars think. That's the claim of the Rev. Cyril Kettle, chaplain of the mission of seamen here.

The Rev. Kettle says sailors are swarming to his mission because he promises to introduce them to some pretty and wholesome girls of the city.

The Rev. Mr. Kettle's project has attracted a great deal of attention. Some reports have suggested that he has organized the proper girls of the town to lure sailors away from the girls, to be found in any port, who aren't so nice.

No sailor may bring a girl to the Middlesbrough mission unless she happens to be his wife. At the mission boy meets girl, but the mission provides the girl.

Many Friendships
Any sailor may find a girl friend here. Many enduring friendships have been formed and, in the Rev. Mr. Kettle's experience, the boy meets girl department of the mission has produced at least one highly successful marriage.

Once introduced at the mission the girls may visit the sailors on their ships in port. Most shipping lines, naturally preferring contented crews, encourage such social contacts if the object is tea and talk. But the skipper of a freighter is not always a shrewd judge of girls. There have been instances, the chaplain said, when the wrong kind of girls got aboard.

What do the mission girls think of their uplift of sailor activities?

What the Girls Think
"It's fun, and one meets such different characters," said blond Mary Whistler, who is the dancing type. "There is nothing wrong with the Middlesbrough boys, but they talk about football and their jobs in the chemical works, which isn't so thrilling. The sailors have had exciting experiences out in the world."

"Are sailors fresh? Not those I've met. They are just boys away from home. Maybe at the mission we remind them of the girls they left at home."

Expanding the mission's influence calls for an alert chaplain who is ready to meet all ships, no matter what the hour.

Liquor Board Issues Church Drink Permit

COLUMBUS, O.—The state liquor department issued a beer and wine permit to the St. John Cantius Catholic Church in Cleveland, it was learned recently.

Department officials said they could not remember that any church ever before obtained a permanent permit.

The permit to serve high-powered beer and wine by the drink was made out for the bar in the church recreation center.

William C. Bryant, state liquor director, explained that the permit was not illegal. The law merely specifies that if a permit is asked for within 500 feet of a church, school, library or playground the institution must be notified and given a chance to object, he said.

Liquor officials pointed out that it was not uncommon for an Ohio church to get an "F" permit, which runs up to five days for a specific event like a picnic or fair. This allows the holder to sell low-powered beer.

The permit will enable St. John Cantius Church to sell high-powered beer and wine to bowlers at 12 new alleys in the church recreation building when they reopen for the season.

Msgr. Francis Duda, Pastor, said that only bowlers would be served by the bar. "It is not for the public, the Monsignor said."

Lowest Thieves Plunder Orphans' Home Larder

ASHLAND, Ky.—Nomination for the world's meanest thieves are hereby entered for the looters who raided the pantry of the Ramsey children's home here. A group of children's home campers returned from a trip on the Little Sandy river to find the home's food-storage room had been looted.

Miss Gertrude Ramsey, founder and superintendent of the home, which had been closed for a week, reported thieves forced the storage-room door facing an alley behind the home. They "practically cleaned out" the supplies of canned foods, soap, soap powders.

Miss Ramsey said a large part of the supplies had been collected in a food drive for the home in the schools here. She said a truck probably was needed to haul away the merchandise.

Miss Ramsey fell and broke an arm while vacationing with the children on the Little Sandy.

The two bad-luck instances aren't bothering Miss Ramsey particularly.

DEEP LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. H. Swanson on Thursday, Jan. 8, gave a birthday party for their son, Fred, who is now a fine young man of 18, at the Twin Lakes Roller rink. There were 25 friends present on that miserable icy night. A cake of distinction was the centerpiece. His mother had a "hot rod" car decoration on it. That's Fred's favorite pastime. Reports all had a grand time.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Weismantel on Jan. 7, left Deep Lake to motor to California for their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson's son, Ken and family from White Plains, N. Y., visited the former's parents at Deep Lake on their vacation. Ken and Ann left homeward bound on Jan. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Seversen are now the proud parents of a baby girl, weighing in at 4 lbs., 12 ozs., at Therese's hospital, Waukegan, Jan. 11. Congratulations to you both, you lucky people. The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lueke are mighty proud and walking on air, too!

Mr. and Mrs. James Van Dyke of Tampa, Fla., and son, James, and daughter, Jo-Ann of Chicago spent Sunday with the former's sister, Jennie V. Hanke of Deep Lake. Mrs. G. Beaulieu wishes to thank the friends of the community for the wonderful help they gave her sister, Mrs. B. Deutschman while she attended the business during her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Stoddard, on Edgewood, have announced the arrival of a 3 lb. 3 oz. baby girl, born at Victory Memorial hospital Dec. 31. This makes the third child in the family.

Hats

Small white hats, some in starched lace, others in straws of all variety can make you look lovely and radiant no matter what your age. Some of them are covered with flowers, others with sparklers and tiny whiffs of veiling.

Traveling Advice

Use a snap clothes pin to hang your hat in the car when taking a trip. Just snap your hat to the rope stretched across the back of the front seat. Snap road maps there, too. Handy for those riding in the back seat.

May Day

May Day has been celebrated from the earliest times. In Rome, flower-decked processions honored Flora, goddess of flowers. In medieval Europe, people went a-maying carrying branches of trees and flowers and danced around a maypole.

Sticker for Plans

A man in Paris jilted on his wedding day by a fickle fiancée went ahead with his prepaid hotel wedding breakfast for $60, just the same.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Since man is never outside of the infinite presence of God, he is never without the consciousness of eternal life. That an understanding of this destroys the fear of death and quickens man's sense of immortality of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 18. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be LIFE.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (16: 5, 11) "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. . . Thou wilt show me the path of Life."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"There came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead; but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples. . . But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose." (Matt. 9: 18, 19, 25).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Life is real and death is the illusion. . . If the belief in death were obliterated, and the understanding obtained that there is no death, this would be a 'tree of life,' known by its fruits. . . When it is learned that disease cannot destroy life, and that mortals are not saved from sin or sickness by death, this understanding will quicken into newness of life. . . God, Life, Truth, and Love make man undying." (pp. 428, 429, 427).

Honor Fire District Trustees

Webb, president of the fire department. D. H. Minto, trustee, was unable to attend the meeting.

"PATHWAY TO GOD" SUBJECT OF SERMON SERIES BY MINISTER

The Rev. G. Richard Tuttle, minister of the Methodist church in Antioch announced this week that he will begin a series of sermons Sunday morning at 11 o'clock on the subject, "The Path to the Reality of God." The series will begin with the subject, "The Path of Faith."

Noting that man's greatest need is not a belief in God but an awareness of the living God in his own life, Mr. Tuttle will deal with those paths which make God real and vital in the life of each person. The chair, under the direction of Charles B. Watson, is planning special music for the service on Sunday morning. Church School for All Ages

The addition of a men's class this past week to the church school of the Methodist church now makes possible classes for all ages. Parents no longer need to send their children to church school, but may join them each Sunday morning at 9:30. F. W. Lagerholm is the new teacher of the men's class. Mrs. Robert Dewes is the teacher of the women's class. There are two high school classes and two or more classes for all grades from nursery and kindergarten to high school. ## SHORT STORY

Mumps—Keep Out

By Paul Tullen

HIGH UP in the apple tree ten-year-old Tommy Thorne pondered on the ways of women. Why did his sister Winifred prefer George Butler when she could have a swell guy like Frank Stanton? Why was she going to the ball game in town tonight with George after she had turned down Frank?

It didn't make sense. Next year probably she and George would be married. Now, had it been Frank it would be something to look forward to.

It would be fun if he could think of some way to scare George when he came tonight. Not that it would change Winifred's opinion of George, but it would be fun anyway.

Then he remembered a "MUMPS—KEEP OUT!" sign he had picked up in a trash dump a few months before. At the time he hadn't expected ever to put it to such a good use.

The more he thought about the idea the better he liked it. What would George do when he saw the sign on the front of the house? He bet the old fraidy-cat would leave in a hurry.

"So, Smartypants, I'll have to sit home tonight just because you must have your little joke!"

But he must be careful. He wished he knew exactly what time George would come. If he put up the sign too early, one of his own folks might see it before George came. And that, of course, would be the end of it. On the other hand if he waited too long George might come before the sign was up.

IN THE early dusk Tommy crouched behind a clump of bushes. Slowly the minutes dragged by. At last a car turned into the driveway. George Butler got out of the car, started for the house, stopped—and then hurriedly got into the car again and drove off. Tommy sprang up; his plan had worked perfectly, but he must not let Winifred see what he had done.

But he was too late. Winifred was staring at the sign tacked on the front of the house. He started to turn and run, but decided he might as well face the music now, for she would get hold of him sooner or later.

"So, Smartypants, I'll have to sit home tonight and twiddle my thumbs just because you must have your little joke!"

Tommy was silent for a minute, twisting one leg around the other. "Maybe you could phone and explain—he'll prob'ly go home." The words came reluctantly for he didn't want Winifred to telephone, and if she did he hoped George wouldn't be home.

"I will not!" she cried hotly. "No, when he didn't care enough to see which of us was sick—why, I might be dying of mumps for all he knows—or cares!"

"People don't die of mumps, do they?"

"What difference does that make?" she retorted.

"It doesn't excuse him from asking. If he didn't dare to come to the door, he could have stood in the yard and yelled. Surely, I couldn't have thrown the mumps on him! Anyway, if I had the mumps he ought to be willing to have them too!"

It was almost too good to be true, Tommy thought. Only one thing was needed to make everything perfect and that would be for Frank to come.

And then Frank did come. He jumped out of his car and asked anxiously, "Who's sick?"

"No one. That sign's just Tommy's little joke," Winifred explained.

Frank laughed. "That's good! I just saw Jack Martin in town and he said he had seen a mumps sign on your house when he drove by. So I thought I'd come out and see if you needed any help. Say, why aren't you at the ball game?"

"How do you expect me to go? Walk? Our car's in the garage for repairs."

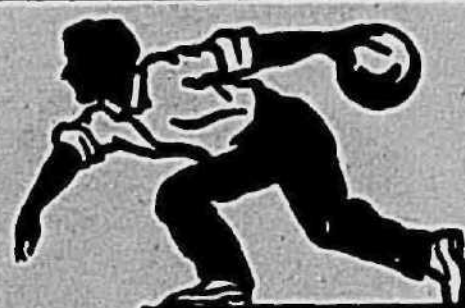

"Why, I thought—Well, you know I'd be awfully glad to take you in, if you care to go. And Tommy too—unless there's a crowd."

"Not when the third one's Tommy," Winifred said, putting her arm around the boy. "He did me an extra good turn tonight."

Heads Scout Drive

Thomas Hudson, Mundelein, chairman of the Northwest District of the North Shore Area of the Boy Scouts of America, has announced a campaign to raise funds for carrying out the activities of the thirty troops of the district.

THOMAS HUDSON

The Northwest district is composed of five communities in Cook county and all of Lake county with the exception of the northeast section. Those in charge of the drive request that residents plan their investment in scouting so that at least a part will be made available for the support of scouting in their own communities.

Uncle Sam Says

The life of Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday anniversary we observe this month, provided an example of hope, courage and thrift which is just as important to you today as ever before. And this applies to all of my nephews and nieces. Together with all of that hope and courage each of you possesses, there must be the respect for thrift. And one of the safe, sure ways of saving is by investing in U. S. Savings Bonds. Each $5 invested today will bring you $4 in ten short years. START SAVING IN 1950 FOR 1964.

Part Time Work

To an extent which few people realize, the economic well-being of the nation depends upon men and women and youngsters who are willing and able to work several hours a day or one or two days a week. Government studies published recently show that only about 55 per cent of the more than 60 million people who work in this country are in full-time, year-round jobs; the others are part-time workers or people who work less than 50 weeks a year.

Better Than Hospital

A man arrested for arson in Live Oak, Calif., told the police he didn't mind being caught, because he had rheumatism and knew he would get the proper medical treatment for it in jail.

Keeping Paint

If you have small amounts of paint left over and want to keep it for later use, simply cover the paint with paraffin. This keeps the paint from drying out in the bottom of the paint can.

Restaurants May Now Apply for Ceiling Price Adjustments

Operators of restaurants and taverns were reminded today that they may obtain forms for ceiling price adjustments from the Regional Office of Price Stabilization at 9 W. Washington st., Chicago 2, Illinois.

B. Emmet Hartnett, Regional Director of OPS, explained that under an amendment to the restaurant regulation operators of eating and drinking places whose food or labor costs have increased since last February 9 can apply to the OPS for individual increases in their posted dollars-and-cents ceiling prices.

Such applications must be made before February 14, 1953, Hartnett said. A special form, OPS Public Form No. 156, has been provided for this purpose. The forms will be supplied restaurants and tavernkeepers only upon request either by phone, mail or in person.

Annual Meeting of Kenosha County Fair Set for Jan. 19th

Annual meeting of the Kenosha County fair, largest in this section, will be held on Monday evening, January 19th, according to cards sent to members this week. The fair will set up an ambitious program this year, with many improvements, it is believed, because of carrying out a long range program, which includes erection of buildings and other permanent installations on the 80-acre plot owned by the fair in Wilmet, Wis.

Undergoes Surgery

Oldest Songbird Again Pleases Tin-Pan-Alley

GLADSTONE, N.J.—Alfred Bryan, who was 81 recently, was signed by Irving Caesar, New York song publisher, to a ten-year contract, renewable upon expiration. But Bryan has announced that Mr. Caesar gets no credit for discovering unknown talent in this case.

Bryan is the author of the lyrics of "Come, Josephine, In My Flying Machine," "Dardanella," "Peg o' My Heart," "Daddy, You've Been a Mother to Me," "Brown Eyes, Why Are You Blue?" "Madelon," "There's Danger in Your Eyes, Cherie" and, by his own rough estimate, 1,000 others.

For a friend of his named Anna Held, he wrote "I Want to Be Good but My Eyes Won't Let Me." She sang it in the show, "Follow Me." His songs also were featured in innumerable Shubert musicals. In one of them, at the old Winter Garden, Mae West had her first feature part, playing Cleopatra in Mr. Bryan's number, "Shakespeare's Garden of Love." During two years in Hollywood, while under contract to Warner Brothers, he wrote "Song of the Nile."

Although he is widely considered the dean of living American popular song writers, it was only a few months ago that Mr. Bryan turned out his first lyrics since his "Puddin' Head Jones" became a hit nearly twenty years ago.

One of his biggest successes, "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier," is rather in limbo these days, although Mr. Bryan likes to think that "the boys in Korea probably sing it just like the boys in France did during World War I."

Whipsaw Enables Man To Have Slick Floor

RACINE, Wis.—The whipsaw brought polished floors to pioneer America.

Lacking tools, the first settlers got along with earthen and stone floors, according to historical researchers. But the introduction of the whipsaw—a long, flexible, two-man blade—enabled the pioneers to turn out flooring almost as smooth and resplendent as the parquet in the castles of Europe.

To hold the plank flooring firm, pioneers drove wooden pegs through to the supporting beams. Protruding tops of the pegs were cut off flush with the surface of the floor.

Many of these early plank floors still maintain their colonial splendor today, enriched through centuries of wax maintenance.

WHAT ABOUT THE DOWN COW?

Q: What causes cows to go down?

A: There are several causes; among them are leukemia, acetoneemia, milk fever, "hardware disease", and nutritional deficiencies. Or the trouble may stem from fractured bones, nerve injuries and various poisons from infections and food sources.

Q: Are these diseases very deadly?

A: Most of them can prove fatal.

Q: What should the owner do if a cow goes down?

A: His first step should be to call a veterinarian, so the trouble can be diagnosed and corrective treatment started. While waiting for professional help it's a good idea to cover the cow with warm, heavy blankets, because in most of these cases the cow's temperature usually drops. This is especially true of milk fever. Keeping her warm helps her chance for recovery. Do not try to move the cow as it may lead to further injury and complications.

Q: Is there any advance warning that a cow is about to go down?

A: In milk fever, the cow often looks dull and doesn't like to move around. In leukemia, there may be a swelling of the lymph glands in the neck, general weakness, loss of appetite and a wasting away. "Hardware disease" is marked by a loss of appetite, grunting and other symptoms.

Q: How successful is treatment?

A: It depends on the individual case and how quickly treatment is started. Modern techniques are now saving many down cows which would have been considered hopeless cases a few years ago.

NOTE—Due to space limitations, general questions cannot be handled by this column.

SHORT STORY

Not His Fault

By Richard Hill

SLATER WELLINGTON'S mother always said that her son was destined to become a writer.

"He writes such lovely letters," she declared. "I'm sure he'll make his mark some day in the literary world."

Friends of Mrs. Wellington smiled and exchanged knowing glances. They'd heard mothers talk about their offspring before.

As time Slater was graduated from college Mrs. Wellington was more than ever convinced he was going to be a great writer.

And Slater, who had always depended much on his mother's advice, agreed that writing would be pleasant work, and maybe he did have some talent.

And so, after a month's vacation, he fixed up a room in the old Wellington home and set himself down to become a writer. He sat for a long time, chewing pencil ends, before writing a word.

He spent a whole morning trying to get going. At noon he gave up and went out to play golf. The next day he tried it again, and succeeded, after a fashion, in outlining the skeleton of a story. It was a very short story, and sounded pretty terrible when he read it over.

He sat for a long time, chewing pencil ends, before writing a word.

Mrs. Wellington read through the manuscript and seemed a little bewildered. But she smiled confidently, and advise Slater to forward the story to a well-known magazine. Slater did, and two days later the story came back.

Slater was discouraged, but Mrs. Wellington seemed more sure of his success than ever. "Write another story," she urged. "Don't let one little rejection slip discourage you. Every writer gets them at the start."

By the end of the summer, after having submitted some 15 short stories, and having them all returned with no more than the customary printed slip, Slater was ready to

"It just isn't in me," he told his mother.

"Slater Wellington, if I ever hear you say that again I'll—I'll—" His mother paused, grouping for words.

Slater grinned. "All right. I'll try once more."

"You'll try a hundred more! Success doesn't come that easy, young man."

SHORTLY AFTER THIS, Mrs. Wellington had another inspiration. "I know what's the matter. You need a change. A change of atmosphere."

Slater welcomed the chance to get away. He left the next day for Miami. En route an idea occurred to him, an idea for a story. A great idea!

He could hardly wait until he reached Miami. Tired though he was, he started the story that night, and worked all the next day.

Three days later he had the final draft completed and ready to send out.

It was then that he remembered he had neglected to write his mother. He felt guilty at the thought, because he knew she'd be worrying. And so before doing anything else, he began a letter.

He wrote about inconsequential things, striving to make the letter sound light and airy, in order to forestall any worrying she might do. It was rather a lengthy letter, and Slater was tired when it was completed. Before going to bed, however, he addressed an envelope to a well-known magazine and mailed up his manuscript.

He mailed the manuscript the next morning and sat down to wait, utterly confident of its success. He wasn't a great deal surprised, therefore, when three days later, a check arrived in payment for the yarn. But the letter that accompanied it was a little puzzling.

"Dear Mr. Wellington," he read. "Enclosed is a check for your untitled story. Do let us hear from you again. The letter idea is a good one."

Still a bit confused, Slater ripped open a letter from his mother that had arrived in the same mail. "Slater darling: Your new story arrived today. I must confess I don't like it as well as some others you have written."

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 11
DEVOTIONAL READING: Isaiah 55: 4-10

Power for Need

THERE are various kinds of power, and this lesson is not about most of them. For example there is mechanical power, and atomic power, and electrical power. There is armed force exerted by a nation, and there are all the forces of nature. We are not concerned directly with any of these. We will think not of one particular kind of power, but of any kind which is personally controlled and used, the power that every one has. Practically all human beings exert some kind of power. It may be the power of influence; it may be based on money; it may be political or social; it may be power to command, such as is held by sea-captains and labor bosses and office managers. The reader is invited to reflect on his own situation and concentrate his mind on whatever power, be it ever so small, which he himself exercises or can exercise when he pleases. Very few persons are complete zeros.

Purposes of Prayer

Is it wrong, that is to say, un-Christian, to wish to be strong? Of course not. There is surely no virtue in weakness. To wish to be weak, or to be content with weakness, is no sign of a Christian. It depends on the motive behind the desire. Now power can be had, or wished for, for various reasons, bad and good. Some people like to be strong just to show off. A boy goes around bending his arm and showing the other boys what big muscles he has, just bragging. That may be all right for a boy (though the booster is pretty sure to be thrown sooner or later). But when a grown man does the same thing he is just being childish. However, this is harmless compared with another common misuse of power; that is, using it to build up more power. We can see it in politicians who hold on to important positions even though they could be more useful in private life and though a dozen other men could do their job quite well as they can. We can see it even in the church, where some men like to get on and stay on important committees because then they can "crack the whip" over their brethren. Worst and meanest of all mis-uses of power is using it to hurt and crush others. We can see examples of this on the national scale, all through history. It scales all the way down to the blackmailer, who uses some bit of scandal that he knows about to ruin the lives of perhaps much better men.

Jesus and His Power

Now Christians have always before them an example of tremendous power, gently and generously used. Readers of this column will be divided into two classes. Some will take the stories of Jesus' miracles quite literally. Others will suppose that some of these stories may have been exaggerations of loyal memory. Let those who are skeptical about the miracle-stories give a thought to this: Even granting, for the sake of the argument, that every one of these miracle-stories is a "made-up" one; they surely would never have been invented about a weak man; and they never would have been told about a selfish one. The historians who are most full of doubts about Jesus agree and admit that he was a man of extraordinary power. And ever if you thought (as this writer does not) that most of the tales of Jesus were wonder-tales and no more, the fact remains that these tales, every one of them, shows a Jesus who never uses power to show off, never uses it "just because," and seven times never uses it to hurt any one.

Power for Need

Jesus gives us the right Christian line. "As he is, so are we in this world," said one of his friends. Power is given us, as all the gifts of life are, for use in the name of God and the help of man. Whatever power we have, we possess as stewards. It makes no difference how obscure we may be, every one of us has some degree of power, of some kind. It may be a mother with her children, a teacher with his pupils, an older child with younger children, a business man with many employees, a judge on the bench or an officer in a 4-H club—if our decisions affect the life of even one other person, then God will ask us: Did your power hurt others, or help?

They expect to visit adjacent islands also. Her friends will go on for a trip around the world, but Mrs. Weber expects to return in February and will visit friends and relatives in California, Colorado and Utah on the way home. ## Your Income Tax

By Ernest J. Sauber

Director of Internal Revenue

(This is the second of a series of articles by Ernest J. Sauber, Director of Internal Revenue for the First Collection District of Illinois, presenting the most important facts pertaining to your 1952 Federal Income Tax return. This article explains the changes affecting the 1952 tax return.)

Changes affecting the 1952 tax were enacted by the 1951 Revenue Act, passed by Congress in October of 1950, and involved business as well as the individual taxpayer.

In this article, attention is focused on the individual taxpayer and provisions applicable to filing of the 1952 return. These provisions include the "Head of the Household" benefit, increase in maximum deductions for charitable contributions, change in the treatment of capital gains and losses and increase in tax rates.

Head of Household

The Head of a Household provision was enacted by the 1951 Revenue Act to apply to returns for the calendar year 1952. The object was to give an unmarried person who was maintaining a home for dependents, a special tax relief—about one-half the amount that a married couple is given under the income-splitting provision.

Qualifications

To qualify as Head of a Household, you must be unmarried at the end of your taxable year. This includes a single person, a person legally separated or divorced, a widow or widower. You would not qualify as "Head of a Household" in the year your spouse dies. In this case you are generally entitled to file a joint return. If you are married to a non-resident alien at any time during your taxable year but otherwise meet the following tests, you are considered Head of a Household since you are not permitted to file a joint return.

You must furnish over half the maintenance of a home which is your principal residence and which, except for temporary absences, you share during the entire taxable year with a dependent qualifying in the following categories:

1. An unmarried child, grandchild or stepchild, including a legally adopted child, who may or may not have received chief support during the taxable year and who may or may not have earned gross income of over $600.00.

2. Any other person for whom you are entitled to a dependency exemption having gross income of less than $600.00.

To claim the Head of the Household benefit, you must file Form 1040 (the white form). Do not use Form 1040A (the yellow form). The law does not permit computation of the tax on Form 1040A by use of the Head of the Household table.

Charity Limit Raised to 20%

For the year 1952, you may deduct all your charitable contributions not to exceed 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income for the year. The limitation was increased from fifteen to twenty per cent for 1952. If you file a joint return with your wife, the twenty per cent is computed on your joint contributions and joint adjusted gross income before any income-splitting.

Capital Gains and Losses

The treatment of capital gains and losses has been changed for 1952. Previously only 50 per cent of long-term gains or losses was taken into account.

For 1952, the entire long-term gain or loss is taken into account and offset by any short-term loss. If the long-term gain is greater than the short-term loss, the net gain is reduced by 50 per cent. If the result is a net loss, then the net loss would be deductible in full within a $1,000 limitation.

Individual Rates

The 1951 Revenue Act provided for the tax rate increase to be fully effective in 1952. For 1951, the increase was 2 per cent; for 1952, it is approximately nine per cent more than the individual income tax rate for 1951.

1951 Changes Still in Effect

The provisions applicable to 1952 are, of course, in addition to those which were effective in 1951; and which will remain in effect unless changed by Congress at a later date.

The 1951 changes also applying to 1952 include: liberalized medical expenses for people 65 or over, relief on the gain on the sale of a residence, permission to change-over after March 15 from standard to itemized deductions and from separated to joint filing, combat pay exemptions for servicemen, increase in dependency exemption to $600.00 and requirement of reporting self-employment income for Social Security tax coverage.

Just in case you need to be refreshed on the foregoing provisions, I would advise you to go to your local Internal Revenue office and discuss your problems with the Internal Revenue agents assigned there. There is no charge for this service.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

One of the items of required equipment on your car is the rear-view mirror. (Section 117, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.) It is, undoubtedly, one of the most valuable pieces of equipment for accident prevention, if the driver will use it.

Almost every driver has, at some time or other, been forced to come to a tire-screaming stop because some other driver turned, stopped or changed traffic lanes without first determining whether there was any traffic behind him. Don't be that "other driver." Always make sure of the situation behind you before making any traffic maneuver, simply by looking in your rear-view mirror.

Even if you are not planning any turns, stops or other movements, it is a good idea to look in that mirror frequently, just so you know what the situation is behind you. You may discover another car getting ready to pass you, you may see a fire truck or ambulance approaching or any number of other things that can all have an effect on what you may have to do.

Eye Care Cost

Americans spend approximately 300 million dollars per year for eye-care and spectacles. Dental bills are nearly five times as much, while 10 times as much is spent for tobacco.

No Fireflies

The firefly, familiar miracle to millions east of the Rockies and in many foreign lands, is unknown in England, northern Europe, and our own far west.

Boron

Boron-bearing material is found widely in the western states. Perhaps the best-known source is Death Valley, California, from which borax has been taken for many years.

Kaaba

The sanctuary at Mecca, the Kaaba, is the center of Islamic worship. Tradition associates the Kaaba with Abraham's casting out of Haagar and Ishmael.

Crying Out Loud!

NO, she's not sorry for herself. She's safe (and she knows it). She's crying about her lost furniture and clothing. It will cost plenty to buy those things all over again. (She knows that, too!)

Moral? Insure adequately!

Wilmot Panthers Will Play Last Basketball Game in Old Gym Sat.

Wilmot High School cagers will play their last game in the old gymnasium this Saturday when they meet Walworth in the first home game of the season. The old gym was erected more than twenty years ago, after the building had been partly destroyed by fire and is a frame structure, designed as a more or less temporary fill-in unit until a new building could be erected.

High prices on construction and a world war were responsible for the old building being in use for so many years. It is thought that the building will be purchased by the Kenosha County Fair association and moved to land owned by the Fair directly to the north of the school property.

The new gymnasium, one of the finest in the area will be put into use on Friday, Jan. 23, when the Panthers meet Norris Farms.

Other home games scheduled for the season at Wilmot include Watford, Jan. 26; Union Grove, Jan. 30; East Troy, Feb. 3; Rochester, Feb. 6; Whitewater, Feb. 10; Mukwonago, Feb. 13; Delavan, Feb. 17; and Burlington, Feb. 20.
